PICOMA MANUFACTURES IN AMERICA. PICOMA REINVESTS IN AMERICA.

At Picoma, we believe in making high-quality domestic products that support the U.S. workforce. We've been manufacturing in America for over 75 years, using domestically sourced steel that gives us full traceability back to the coil and supply chain security. We continue to invest in our state-of-the-art facility and our teammates to ensure you always receive the best quality and service in the industry. Plus, our e-commerce solutions make it easy to manage inventory so your customers always get what they need, when they need it.

Delivering the best in electrical.

You won't find high-quality domestic EC&N like ours anywhere else. Our products not only stand the test of time, they're designed to help contractors work more efficiently on the job. Our XL-radius and SpeedCouple elbows can cut installation time and costs even on the most challenging applications.
